

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system and method of locating an online site or document for a user. At least one question is provided to a user, the question being associated with a plurality of predefined answers. One of the plurality of predefined
5 answers is received. This predefined answer is associated with a keyword. A link is retrieved for the online site or document, the link being associated with the keyword.